REFLECTION ON TODAY'S READINGS

THE WORKERS OF THE VINEYARD - Jesus has compassion for the people, looking at them as sheep without a shepherd. He trains and provides shepherds after His own heart. As Christians, we do not select our shepherds. They are provided by Christ according to our needs. We need to be thankful to God for our shepherds. They can have human limitations and be poor in talents. But do not forget that they are provided by Christ, the Good Shepherd. He calls them by name despite knowing their shortcomings. This is not a mere healing service. He instructs them and gives them authority over evil. In Jewish thought, sickness, and death are seen as coming from the devil. The authority is to protect people from the devil in the Name of Jesus and proclaim the Kingdom and its values. Let us pray for the shepherds that God has sent to look after us.
